(Kelowna, B.C.) For one-night-only later this month, celebrated Canadian band The Boom Booms are reuniting and returning to Kelowna with a very special performance at downtown's Rotary Centre for the Arts.

The Vancouver, B.C. band blends storytelling and dance music with draws on funk, soul and latin styles. As BeatRoute Magazine put it, The Boom Booms provide "Feel-good music, soaked in classic soul and served on a 21-century platter."

The Theatre Programming Coordinator for the Mary Irwin Theatre, Karma Lacoфф Nieoczym, is delighted to be bringing The Boom Booms back to the city:

"In my opinion, The Boom Booms remain one of western Canada's most exciting bands. They bring the party to every performance and I know March 12's show will be no different. We're excited to have them playing at the Rotary Centre for the Arts by special request, and would love to sell out the theatre for this one-off gig. I know they have lots of fans in Kelowna, and this is a rare opportunity to catch the band live these days!"

The Boom Booms have spent the last decade touring the world and playing festivals (Pemberton, Squamish Live, Toronto Jazz Fest and more). They've also played highly successful shows at the Rotary Centre for the Arts in the past too.

The Boom Booms are no longer officially active and only perform together by special request. They return to Kelowna on Thursday, March 12, at 8 p.m. There are a limited number of tickets remaining for the performance - they can be purchased HERE.
