Chart-Topping Singer-Songwriter Leeroy Stagger Comes to Kelowna November 1

(Kelowna, BC) On November 1, Canadian alternative country singer-songwriter, Leeroy Stagger, is bringing his latest album to Kelowna.

To say that the Alberta musician's life journey has followed a strange path would be a bit of an understatement. 17 years as a singer-songwriter and 10 years sober, with two kids, a home in Lethbridge and a world-class recording studio to go with it, he's far removed from the hard-living twenty-something who started on his musical path in the BC punk scene.

In a nod to his 'strange path', that is the name of the album Stagger is touring. It is currently seeing significant airplay with his first single from the record, the glam-rock blissed out "Strange Attractor", hitting number 1 on the CKUA radio charts and staying in the top 20 on the CBC National Charts, climbing as high as number three ahead of the likes of Tegan and Sara, HAIM, Walk Off the Earth and The New Pornographers.

Strange Path is full of sharp hooks and sharper insight, and "Strange Attractor" rides that line right to the end. You can check out the video for "Strange Attractor" here.

Throughout his career, Stagger has shared the stage with a diverse range of performers, including Steve Earle, Tegan and Sara, Modest Mouse, Josh Ritter and Buffy Saint Marie, such is the quality of his musicianship. On November 1, Stagger will share the stage with Kelowna's very own Leila Neverland with Taylor van Zyl.

Stagger is performing at the Mary Irwin Theatre at downtown Kelowna's Rotary Centre for the Arts (421 Cawston Ave.) Karma Laccoff is the Booking Coordinator for the Mary Irwin Theatre and she is delighted to have Stagger performing at the venue:

"Leeroy is incredibly talented. We're so thrilled to be able to present his music to a Kelowna audience. While he has plenty of fans, there are many who are yet to discover Leeroy - I have no doubt that he's going to pick up some new fans here in Kelowna. This is going to be a night of fabulous music and I'm thoroughly looking forward to it!"

Advance tickets for the gig are just $25, rising to $30 on the day of the show. Tickets can be purchased here. Grab yours and find out why Penguin Eggs said: "Strange Path already feels like a Canadian classic and continues to show why Stagger is considered one of Canada's best singer/songwriters." However, let's leave the final word to Leeroy Stagger himself:

"Nothing is permanent when you really stop and think," says Stagger. "The home we live in, the car we drive, the children we raise, the art we make and the skin that we're in. It's not forever, it's barely real, and that's ok to me because I've been shown the truth of it all. In seeing that it's not that big of a deal, this has shown me how beautiful it all is. It's precious, impermanent and beautiful. "Strange Attractor" is about the unseen nature of impermanence and the sacredness of the life we live."
