Win Cash While Supporting Local Arts: Rotary Centre for the Arts Launches Summer 50/50 Raffle

(Kelowna, BC) - The Rotary Centre for the Arts (RCA) has launched its Summer 50/50 Raffle, giving British Columbians the chance to win half the jackpot while helping strengthen arts and culture in the community. The raffle will support a wide range of programs at the RCA, including arts education, summer camps, community performances, creative aging initiatives, and affordable access to arts experiences for children, youth, adults, seniors, and families.

"We believe the arts have the power to bring people together, inspire creativity, and improve wellbeing," says Colleen Fitzpatrick, Executive Director of the Rotary Centre for the Arts. "Every raffle ticket purchased helps us continue offering meaningful arts experiences that enrich lives and strengthen our community. It's a fun way for people to support local arts while having the chance to win."

As one of Kelowna's leading cultural hubs, the Rotary Centre for the Arts welcomes more than 230,000 visitors each year and provides a home for local artists, arts organizations, schools, and community groups. Donations and fundraising initiatives such as the Summer 50/50 Raffle help keep arts programming accessible and affordable while supporting the operation of a community facility that hosts hundreds of performances, exhibitions, workshops, camps, and creative experiences annually. Investing in the RCA is an investment in Kelowna's vibrant cultural life, local economy, and the next generation of artists and creative thinkers.

One lucky winner will receive 50% of the final jackpot, with the remaining proceeds directly supporting the Rotary Centre for the Arts and its charitable mission.
