T. Buckley Trio Brings Soulful Country Vibes to the RCA

(Kelowna, BC) - The Rotary Centre for the Arts (RCA) is thrilled to extend a warm welcome to the award-winning songwriter T. Buckley, who will be performing alongside his acoustic trio at the Mary Irwin Theatre on Saturday, November 25 at 7:30 PM.

Led by T. Buckley, a member of a dwindling breed of craftsmen, the band combines bluegrass and country elements to complement the singer's songs and unique interpretations of their musical influences. Rooted in the Western tradition, T. Buckley's soulful voice is undeniably authentic, a testament to a respected class of songsmiths that is rarely found.

T. Buckley is a singer, songwriter, and guitarist who has become a staple in the Alberta roots music scene. Over his career, he has released four albums, topped radio charts, sold out shows across western Canada and held a 4-year weekly residency at one of Calgary's best live music venues.

"We take pride in being a hub for the performing arts and culture, showcasing talent from all corners of Canada. T. Buckley is a shining example of this. He is a remarkable songwriter, and his performances are known for their authenticity and emotional depth," says Colleen Fitzpatrick, Executive Director of the Rotary Centre for the Arts. "We believe audiences are in for a delightful experience. "

The show will predominantly feature original compositions, with selected cover tunes woven into the set list to provide a well-rounded musical experience. Anticipate a night filled with melodies, storytelling, and musicianship as T. Buckley connects with listeners through his songs, coupled with the artistry of his Acoustic Trio.

Don't miss the chance to see the T. Buckley Acoustic Trio perform live at the Mary Irwin Theatre on Saturday, November 25. Tickets are $49 and available now at the RCA box office. Groups of 20+ can save 20%.
